ONLY IN THE VILLAGES

By Taylor Strickland

To celebrate the 50th anniversary of The Beach Boys' "Endless Summer" album this year, the band is surfin' the U.S.A. on its "America's Band" tour.

The group returned to The Villages for two sold-out shows Thursday at The Sharon L. Morse Performing Arts Center, where members played all of their greatest hits.

"It's good to be back," said Mike Love, the only original Beach Boy still touring with the band.

March Means Concerts at Area Churches

By JAMES DINAN | Daily Sun Senior Writer

Area churches are loading their calendars this month with concerts and shows intended to welcome Villagers and others to their sanctuaries, while at the same time, helping the church and others.

New Life Christian Church is holding a free concert at 6:30 p.m. Sunday benefiting Rapha International, a nonprofit known for protecting and rescuing children from worldwide sex trafficking.

The concert is called "A Stroll Down Memory Lane" and features songs from the first half of the 20th century.

"There will be music from George Gershwin to Cole Porter, Judy Garland to Frank Sinatra," said Catherine Daugherty, of New Life Christian Church. "We will have an all-star cast of performers, are one of the most iconic bands in American history. With four No. 1 singles, more than 100 million records sold worldwide and 33 RIAA platinum and gold record awards, their music is considered synonymous with the sound of a quintessential California summer. They are featured on myriad TV and movie soundtracks, including “Full House,” “The Simpsons,” “King of the Hill,” “It’s Complicated,” “50 First Dates” and many others. The “Endless Summer” album was the band’s second chart-topper in the U.S., featuring songs both new and old like “Surfin’ Safari,” “Surfer Girl,” “Surfin’ U.S.A.,” “I Get Around,” “California Girls” and “Good Vibrations.” “It’s our pleasure to sing the little songs we’ve recorded and have people show up to see us,” Love said. Although Love is the only Beach Boy still touring, the concert featured plenty of songs on which other members originally sang lead. The audience enjoyed the vocals and showmanship of the band’s current drummer, Jon Bolton, as well as the guitarist and keyboardist’s rendition of “God Only Knows.” “My cousin Carl sang this song, but we lost him to lung cancer years ago, so this afternoon, my son Christian Love is going to sing it for us,” Love said. In addition to being a member of American rock royalty, Christian Love is a surfer, performer and second-generation Beach Boy. He shares the stage with his father as part of the backup band. His rendition of his uncle’s song was an audience favorite, with the crowd going wild as “We love you, Carl” flashed across the screen at the end of the song. The last songs of the night were some of the band’s most well-known, including “Good Vibrations,” “Kokomo” and “Fun, Fun, Fun,” and had the audience on their feet dancing and singing along. “Thank you for coming out to see The Beach Boys,” Love said. “We’ve had a lot of fun, fun, fun.” In addition to the “Endless Summer” anniversary, the concert marked significant milestones for some audience members as well. It was the very first concert for Wildwood resident Eileen Ferrari. “I was raising kids and I never had the opportunity,” Ferrari said. “And then when they got raised, I worked two or three jobs to keep going.” Ferrari was at the concert with her daughter and granddaughter, Tanya and Taylor Tudor, both of whom demanded she come to the show with them. Unlike Ferrari, Tanya and Taylor are avid concertgoers, but this was the first time Taylor had seen The Beach Boys. To her shock, the band played many songs she recognized. “I listen to the songs a lot and didn’t really notice who sings them,” Taylor said. “I’m surprised they still have their talent.” “I remember them from high school,” Barbara Ann said. “Everybody just knew them — they were like The Beatles.” Accompanying the Bardens were Barbara’s brother Bill Herndon and his wife, Susan, of the Village of Newell. Bill and Susan said they both thought the concert was great. “It kind of brought back memories from when I was young,” Bill said. “Especially the songs like ‘409’ and showing pictures of all the cars — I love that.” Senior writer Taylor Strickland can be reached at 352-753-1119, ext. 5334, or taylor.strickland@thevillagesmedia.com.
